Collaborate vital KPIs and share critical analysis throughout the company. Integrate department data from different source systems to optimize total revenue management. Create dashboards with room revenue on the books overlaid with Spa or Golf booking trends for the same period. Discover which market segments impact bookings for other departments and which do not. Increase the ancillary revenue in the property by reviewing market segment, booking source and channel booking patterns. Facilitate the total revenue management process, to understand the booking expenses of different booking channels for different markets. Provide feedback on the cost of sales and other expenses relative to the revenue contribution for each department throughout the property. Analyze original booking vs actual upsold room rates by reservations, front office or other team members. Share results via email or mobile devices with MS Power BI or other reporting tools.
